How Can You Help Stop Terrorists?

Look and Listen.

Terrorists don't announce their attacks. They rely on surprise. They take advantage of complacency. They know federal, state, and local authorities cannot be everywhere.

And they think you're not paying attention. Prove them wrong.

By using your eyes and ears, you can help stop their plans from becoming reality.

One quick phone call could make a difference.

Here are some things to watch for:

Bags Left Unattended

Terrorists attacked public places in Bali and Madrid by planting bombs in gym bags and backpacks.

People Monitoring Areas, Buildings, or Entrances

Terrorists may research targets for destruction by taking pictures of public structures.

Individuals or Groups of People Attempting to Enter Secure Areas

Terrorists may try to enter water treatment plants, electric power facilities, fuel stations, or telecom and data storage centers.

People at Public Events Wearing Clothing Not Consistent With the Weather Conditions

Terrorists may strap explosive devices beneath their clothing.
